

NON PERM SCIENTIFIC TECHNICIAN 1
FISH SCIENCE DIVISION
CLE ELUM, WASHINGTON
OPENING: March 16, 2010 CLOSING: OPEN UNTIL FILLED

Job Opportunities

Field work and collecting data on Chinook Salmon

Full-time Temporary Positions (3 positions total)

Agency: Washington Department of Fish & Wildlife

Job Title: Scientific Technician 1

Pay Range: $2113.00 - $2724.00 per month *Dependent on Qualifications

Duration: May – Nov * Anticipated start date is May 3, 2010. Anticipated end date is November 1, 2010

- 1st position: May 3, 2010 – October 30, 2010
- 2nd position: June 2, 2010 – October 30, 2010
- 3rd positions: June 2, 2010 – October 30, 2010

Work Week: May 4, 2009 – October 30, 2010 – schedule: Monday - Friday

June 2, 2010 – October 30, 2010 – schedule: Monday - Friday

June 2, 2010 – October 1, 2010 – scheduled: Wednesday - Sunday

Location: Cle Elum Hatchery, Cle Elum Washington, Kittitas County

There are currently three - 6 month non-permanent employment opportunities with the Fish Program, Science Division, located in Cle Elum, Washington, Kittitas County. Please pass this on to anyone that might be interested.

Position(s): Scientific Technician 1

Duration: 6 months

Anticipated Appointment Dates: May – Nov * Anticipated start date is May 3, 2010, anticipated end date is November 1, 2010

Salary: Range 30, $2113.00 - $2724.00 per month DOQ

Location: Cle Elum Hatchery, Cle Elum Washington, Kittitas County

Responsibilities include: Science Technician 1 will be setting up laboratory and field activities in order to obtain data on the various effects of domestication selection on spring Chinook salmon in a hatchery environment. Activities include: stocking fry into rearing vessels, stocking fry into observation tanks, cleaning tanks and checking flows, feeding experimental fish, maintenance of equipment, behavioral observations of spring Chinook fry interactions, and data entry.

Required Qualifications:

Graduation from high school or GED, including one year of high school science

How to Apply: For more detailed questions about the position duties please contact Chad Stockton 509-856-4381. Interested persons should send a completed state application / resume to WDFW Attn: Chad Stockton by e-mail to Chad.Stockton@dfw.wa.gov or fax to 509-925-4702.